The Lakes International Comics Rights Market

A NEW INTERNATIONAL COMICS RIGHTS MARKET AT THE LAKES INTERNATIONAL COMIC ART FESTIVAL 2024

We are very excited indeed to introduce a new element to the festival this year which aims to raise the profile of British comics globally and put more British comics out there, translated and distributed in more countries across the world. It's the second only dedicated comics rights market in the world after the Angoulême Festival in France. The Rights Market is not open to the general public but you'll feel the buzz around it (it's right next to the free marketplace) and you'll bump into many more people, mostly publishers, from a wide range of European countries (we're focussing on Europe in its first year). It is a place where British sellers will meet European buyers and, hopefully, begin to buy and sell British work (and more).

This new adventure has been funded by Arts Council England with additional support from the Adlard Foundation and Creative Scotland. There is a further strand too called British Comics Now where we take British creators out to international events to shout about the new generation of British comics artists.

A very big thank you to the funders and supporters of this new programme and a very big warm British welcome to all of our British publishers and creators and those from across Europe

EVENT LISTINGS

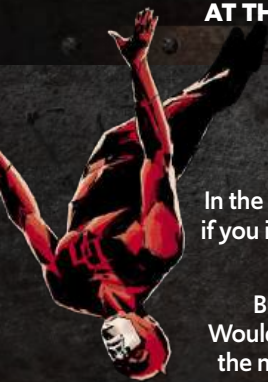

FRIDAY 27 SEPTEMBER 2024

THE AVENGERS

UNCIVIL WAR

FRIDAY 27 SEPTEMBER 2024 8.00 - 9.30PM
AT THE OLD LAUNDRY THEATRE, BOWNESS-ON-WINDERMERE

Do you know how many Avengers there have been?

In the movies alone, the roster stands at sixteen. In the comics, well, if you include all the splinter teams, honorary members, trainees and infiltrators, there are well over 150.

But who is the ultimate Avenger – the one to rule them all? Would it be the strongest, the smartest, the funniest? The one with the most compelling backstory? The best leader? Or just the one who can shout 'AVENGERS ASSEMBLE!' the loudest?

In Avengers: Uncivil War, LICAF's opening event for 2024, we're going to find out. And the ultimate arbiter will not be Thanos, Loki or even the ghost of Stan Lee. It will be you, O wielder of the live vote.

Five comics experts will each make the case for their own favourite Avengers accompanied by 4 artists drawing live and with MC Emma Vieceli. One character will be entering the Heroes' Hall of Fame. The others will just be toxic Avengers. Join us –and help make history.

The Friday Opening Night also includes the announcement of the prestigious Sergio Aragonés International Award for Excellence in Comic Art 2024 which is presented by the NCS.

We will also announce the The Sophie Castille Awards for Comics in Translation. This is for the best translation of graphic novels into a variety of languages around the world and this year's award will again be presented in partnership with Comica and VIP Brands.

The night's events will be sponsored by the NCS

SOCIAL PROGRAMME

SATURDAY 28 SEPTEMBER
THE RO HOTEL, HELM ROAD 8-11.30PM

FREE TO PASSHOLDERS

The Viz Pub Quiz

8-9pm

No idea what it will be nor how clever you'll need to be. There will be questions and there will be prizes! Come on your own or with a team (more than one person is a team!). Pub Quiz Master Simon Thorp (and family).

Festival Stand Up

9-10pm

Two exclusive stand ups from two comics creators who also do stand up.

Luke Healy is a cartoonist and comedian from Ireland. He performs and teaches at the UK's biggest (and best) comedy theatre The Free Association in London. He likes comedy.....and brevity.

Hugleikur Dagsson is an Icelandic artist, mostly known for his sick cartoons. Straight (kind of) from the Edinburgh Festival Fringe with a peek at his stand-up show 'No Idea', a collection of unfinished thoughts about sexual time travel, cat skinning and dead popstars.

Festival Karaoke

10-11.30pm

Non-singers essential! Give your vocal chords a good workout and bond with your festival guests and festival-goers. This year there'll be spot prizes.....obviously for the worst and weirdest renditions.

LICAF 2024 EXHIBITIONS

Enter the Mulberry Tree and Fly Free

Palestinian Comics Revealed

26th - 30th Sept 2024 10.00am - 4.00pm
at The Old Fire Station, Windermere Jetty Museum

Enter the Mulberry Tree and Fly Free focuses on the work of twelve Palestinian comic artists. Exploring themes ranging from personal identity to geopolitics, these artists present remarkable perspectives on Palestine. The clamour of the past decades has tended to obscure the everyday lives and unique creativity of Palestinian comic artists and Enter the Mulberry Tree and Fly Free seeks to reveal these unheard voices and experiences.

Curated by one of the leading academics and writers on Arabic comics, George Khoury, together with leading Palestinian comic artist and academic Mohammed Sabaaneh, this exhibition brings together work by a surprising and exciting range of groundbreaking comic artists.

A Lakes International Comic Art Festival exhibition supported by the British Council

CELEBRATING SIXTY YEARS OF DOCTOR WHO IN COMICS

29 September – 2 October 2024 10.00am - 4.00pm
Pop-Up Gallery, Windermere Jetty Museum

2024 marks the sixtieth anniversary of Doctor Who appearing in comics. This exhibition celebrates every Doctor, from the classic TV Comic strips and "The Daleks", which ran in TV Century 21, to the modern stories published by Doctor Who Magazine. Plus, we offer a tip of the hat to some of the humorous takes on the character too, by creators such as Lew Stringer, who draws "The Daft Dimension" for DWM today, Tim Quinn and Dicky Howett.

If you're a fan of Doctor Who and want to experience his adventures in a whole new way, enjoy our trip through sixty years of comics history – and plenty of timey-wimey shenanigans too!

The Lakes International Comic Art Festival would like to thank Jason Quinn, Ed Hammond, Paul Scoones and Ian Snell for their help assembling this special celebratory exhibition – and all those who created the comics in the first place.
